

'Hortense' Pins a Pertinent Pin-Up Article About Church and Social News and to Our Advertisers and Readers

"Hortense," our most efficient bookkeeper, sometimes edges over into the production end of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS.

Not that we encourage her in this, but "Hortense" is a most insistent personage, and at times she DOES HAVE some efficient ideas, even about production. One is the advantage of early copy.

The other day she remarked that the church news was beginning to arrive in the News office later and later, and that the same thing is relatively true of the social news.

"Later it comes, the more money it costs us for production," she explained.

We commented that we were not like a lot of newspaper editors in "taking it out" on the preachers in making them toe the deadline before anyone else.

BUT REMEMBER—"Hortense" is insistent. She had facts and figures to show that later church and social copy was costing us more money than it should. And, she remarked a bit coyly, she didn't think the good churches wanted us to lose money.

So remembering the Parable of the Three Talents, we finally—and reluctantly—we agreed with "Hortense" that all church copy should be in the Sierra Madre News office by noon each Monday. So bring it in, good church folk—we'll print it.

"Hortense" was a bit adamant, too, about social news. So—and all in the interest of production, mind you—we set the same deadline for social news. Pictures for the society pages must be in by Saturday at noon—we work until that time Saturday, you know.

SAD TO RELATE, all this did not quite satisfy "Hortense"—she was on the war path. She reminded us about the slowness of people in making their payments—for display and classified advertising and for subscriptions. Naturally, this is a painful subject to us, but "Hortense" pointed out that we have to pay our bills by the 10th of each month, and that to do so prompt collection is necessary.

What would you do? Regrettably, we had to agree that "Hortense" was right. The rest, we leave to you, good patrons—it's a painful subject to us.

Gosh, the woes and difficulties of publishing a newspaper. And advertising, quite a bit more of it from the local merchants, is necessary if this Republican newspaper is to survive "Hortense" says so.

Hawkins, Landwehr Units War

BULLETIN

Last minute political developments—Dr. Dore Sharp of 3725 Hampton Rd., Hastings Ranch, retired science teacher, author and lecturer, has been endorsed by delegates to the 48th Assembly District Democratic Council to oppose the Republican incumbent, Assemblyman Frank Lanterman of the 48th Assembly District. Dr. Sharp is a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, chairman of the 48th Assembly District Democratic Council, and past president of the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club.

The battle between W. Murray Hawkins, incumbent, and Paul F. Landwehr of 280 W. Carter, for city treasurer, to be decided at the April 12 election, tuned in more consciously on the electorate sounding board this past week.

Sierra Madre City Council, at its meeting two weeks ago last Tuesday, considered a report on how the city's finances are handled and invested, commending Treasurer Hawkins for his careful handling and wise investment of the municipality's money. Hawkins, incidentally, is on vacation in Europe.

NEW 10-YEAR STREET LIGHTING PLAN FOR S.M. COUNCIL

Our Sierra Madre 'Stork' Is Safely Ensconced
At San Diego Hospital's Maternity Department

Everything's hunky-dory with "The Stork" which adorned Sierra Madre's float during the Tournament of Roses New Year parade in Pasadena.

You will recall that the Float Association gave "The Stork" to the Sharp Memorial Community Hospital in San Diego. The latter wanted to erect it in front of the hospital's Maternity Department to be opened in a few months.

Now, Ralph R. Rule of 161 S. Holdman Ave., co-chairman of the Float Committee, has received the following explanatory letter from F. R. McDougall, Sharp Hospital administrator:

"DEAR MR. RULE:

"This is a very belated thank you for all your efforts in helping to obtain 'The Bird' for our Stork Club. It took a bit of doing to strip it down and have it covered with treated fiber glass. However, the work was done by our engineers, and a member of our Auxiliary, a fine artist, spent an afternoon sketching the live storks in the San Diego Zoo, and then painted our stork in a most realistic style.

"Some of the results are decidedly interesting. We have had several women call in wanting to know how to join the 'Stork Club.' Others have wanted to make down

IT'S OUR OWN Sierra Madre Tournament of Roses Float 'Stork,' but the bird is now some distance from the old home base. Rather, he's perched in front of the Sharp Memorial Community Hospital maternity department, soon to be completed, at San Diego, as a welcome sign for prospective dads and mothers. Council Rejects Planning Body's Decision on Toyon Rd.; Orders Citywide Study

That hot potato, the Toyon Rd. situation and the proposed subdividing of a large section of this wooded area, again confronted Sierra Madre City Council Tuesday night, excitedly so.

Councilmen Severin Sorensen, Milton R. Emerson and James Abernethy joined forces to back up the residents led by John A. Sielin in their hard-fought contention that the proposed subdividing by the Prescott Building Company of 3827 E. Colorado, Pasadena, is unwise, unsound and unsafe, and would jeopardize the rest of the area.

This was done amid outbursts of oratory by counsel for both sides, applause and some boos from the more than 100 Toyon Rd. property owners who jammed the City Council Chambers, and a decision by Council to put the matter over until May 10 during which time it will study not only the Toyon Rd. question but also all other similarly situated areas in the city. This, with a view, as advanced by Councilman Emerson, that remedial legislation covering the entire city should be effected.

IN MAKING this decision, Council overrode the decision of the City Planning Commission and of City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington approving the tract after the Prescott Company had reduced the number of lots from 21 to 19 and advanced other safety measures.

Council decided that these were not sufficiently precautionary or had the necessary degree of permanence.

Reading of the Planning Commission report by Mayor Webster W. Vannier and Administrator Bevington touched off the fireworks.

Councilmen Emerson and Sorensen immediately expressed dissatisfaction with the report. Attorney Tom Garcin of the San Fernando Valley, appearing for the subdividers, pinned his argument for acceptance on approval of the project by the Planning Commission and Administrator Bevington.

"It's Council's responsibility to look out for the safety of this city's people," asserted Sorensen amid much applause.

Garcin said the company has purchased the site outright for cash.

"My heart bleeds for them," remarked Sorensen facetiously.

CITY ATTORNEY Martin made it plain that the city must approve the Planning Commission's decision within 30 days or, under emergency legislation, reject it outright. It was with consent of attorneys for both sides that the decision to postpone action was made.

Embree City's First Paid Fire Marshal

Sierra Madre today has its first fully employed, paid fire marshal.

He is Bert Embree, commercial photographer of 37 E. Montecito, named by City Council Tuesday night. Embree placed tops in oral and written tests, and uniform and all, begins work on April 4, at a $450 monthly salary, plus $25 a month car allowance and $100 a year for uniform care.

He will work in conjunction with Fire Chief Charles E. Brown, spending full time in operations directed from his office in City Hall. In this he will serve as fire inspector, in fire prevention work, in schools, hose test-

Teens, Elders Work On Sturtevant Trail

By Bill Work

A lonely trail with a historic past received a new lease on life Saturday morning.

All along the Sturtevant Trail from the Circle H Ranch to Chantry Flats, the sound of shovel and picks, laughter and talk of the young echoed the mountain air.

Under supervision of Ranger Jack Tice, Scout troops of Sierra Madre and Hastings Ranch were rebuilding the beautiful trail.

Aiding Tice and the boys were Rev. George W. Lindsay, City Administrator Larry Bevington and Superintendent of Schools Ed. Walker. They worked not only for a love of the mountains, but also for the people of Sierra Madre. It is their trail to enjoy.

Kiwanis Speaker Stresses State's Water, Oil Needs

Water and oil were mixed by Lawrence A. Dysart, director of the speakers' bureau, Richfield Oil Corporation, addressing the Sierra Madre Kiwanis Club at its weekly meeting Tuesday in Woman's Clubhouse.

Dysart is a graduate from Arizona State College at Tempe, a member of the Community Relations Committee, Girl Scouts of America, Los Angeles Council, vice president of the Los Angeles Authors Club, and president of the Sertonne

Stressing the fact that oil and water resources are not being recovered in their proper entities, Dysart said:

"HISTORICALLY, water has been Southern California's biggest single problem. Six million Southern Californians are living where local water sources could be solved by importing some 85 per cent of our water from the Sierras or the Colorado River," he pointed out. But there are other ways to attack the problem. He told his listeners that we are now catching only about 14 per cent of the total runoff of water in California, whereas by additional development we can control and use as much as 64 per cent.

Turning to the other liquid resource, oil, he declared that it supplies more than 95 per cent of the energy needed to drive the state's industry and transportation. Here, too, we are not "catching" all the oil that we could.

"By prevailing methods of oil production in California, the average recovery is about 25 per cent. Methods now known can increase recovery to as much as 80 per cent," he said, but are not widely used because the support little more than one million.

"The problem has been state lacks a sound oil conservation law.

"THUS, our oil and water resources have in common the fact that only a minor proportion is being recovered. But there is this vital difference: Water wasted one year can, through the precipitation cycle, return again with next year's rain. Oil is a non-renewable resource. Once wasted, it is lost forever."

Dysart concluded that how to make the most of these liquid resources, how to conserve them, to provide the greatest good for the greatest number, is vital to continued prosperity in California.

More Illumination At Low Cost Seen

Sierra Madre City Council will soon have submitted to it a comprehensive, revamped 10-year graduated program for improved city lighting.

The proposal worked out by Councilman Milton Emerson and City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, from a program originally formulated by the Southern California Edison Company, is being first submitted to Mayor Webster W. Vannier and the other councilmen, James Abernethy, Severin Sorensen and L. W. Lisle for their detailed study.

Decision to renew study of a proposed lighting program follows the emphasis which the SIERRA MADRE NEWS has recently laid on the need for better street lighting for both the city's business and residential areas.

Cost for the eight business and residential districts in which the report divides the city would be relatively low compared to the benefits realized. Here's how:

There would be no cost to the city for the work or equipment aside from 45 new steel standards on such streets as Gateway, Edgeview, Stonehouse, Lillano Dr., and the Holdman and Colony St. areas. Cost of these would be $150 apiece. Only other cost would be in energy charges.

At present there are 252,100 lumen lamps in the city. Total cost to operate these lamps is $529.20 a month. For an estimated additional $226.80 a month, there would be well over a 300 per cent increase in light, with 2,500 all-new lumen fixtures.

BETTER lighting would:

1—Reduce traffic accident possibilities. Statistics show that wherever adequate street lighting is installed night traffic accidents are reduced. Of all traffic fatalities 70 per cent occur at night when there is only 28 per cent of the total traffic on the street.

2—Facilitates traffic flow. When drivers can read signs and see where they are going, the slowdowns and congestion caused by driver indecision is eliminated.

3—Reduces fire and automobile insurance throughout the city.

4—Expedites fire calls.

5—Helps discourage crime. Reductions of 30 per cent in crime have been reported by cities with new, modern street lighting.

6—Increases real estate values. Good lighting, definitely, will help a city prosper and boost property values. One of the most important benefits to be expected from good, efficient street lighting is to compete more adequately with other cities and to make the City of Sierra Madre more attractive and safe to the many thousands who live or visit here.

7—Promotes better business. Local businessmen are keenly acute to the importance of better street lighting. They realize that good street lighting pays off in improved business.

THE REPORT divides the city into these eight districts, with the costs varying according to whether the area comprises arterial, primary feeders, secondary feeders, residential or alley roadways:

1—Sierra Madre Blvd., between Lima and Michillinda, and along the alley of Baldwin, and Baldwin, between Montecito and Suffolk where the existing standards would be used but the luminaire would be changed to 20,000 Lumen - Mercury Vapor Lights, bringing a 29 per cent increase in illumination.

2—Sierra Madre Blvd., between Lima and Michillinda and between the alley east of Baldwin and the alley east of Baldwin, bringing a 173 per cent increase in illumination.

3—From Carter Ave. south to Montecito and from Suffolk Ave. south to the city limits, with a 400 per cent increased illumination.

4—Orange Grove Ave., from Michillinda to the eastern city limits, with an 814 per cent increase in illumination. Concerning this area the report says:

"This primary feeder runs

Youth Killed In Crash of Motorcycles

A motorcycle collision Sunday at Duarte and Muscatel in San Gabriel brought death to William Michael Shea, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Shea of 670 Edgeview Dr.

Young Shea, senior student in Pasadena High School, and a captain in the ROTC unit there, died on the operating table at Methodist Hospital, Arcadia, without regaining consciousness shortly before midnight Sunday.

Born in Santa Monica, the youth is survived by his parents, a sister, Kathleen, all of Sierra Madre, and his paternal grandfather, William P. Shea of Elmira, N.Y.

Recitation of the Rosary was Tuesday at 7:30 a.m., with the Requiem Mass Wednesday at 9 a.m., both in St. Rita's Catholic Church. Burial was in Resurrection Cemetery, South San Gabriel. Ripple Mortuary, Sierra Madre, was in charge.

S.M. Rescue Team Finds Boy, Injured, In Canyon

The Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team added another to its long list of rescues last Saturday afternoon.

Its members carried Stephen F. Davis, a 13-year-old, of 1860 Gardena Blvd., Gardena, from the hills, after discovering him there with a broken leg.

Young Davis was hiking with his troop in the Big

May we walk in Thy sight and Thy light, O Father, for the benefit of Thy spirituality, Thy cause and our humanity.

We Tip Our Lid to C. W.

There are special standouts in the experiences of an editor, occurrences and persons which and who dramatize themselves in his consciousness through their genuine "all-wool-and-a-yard-wide" merit.

We had such an experience during a recent afternoon when the sprightly C. W. Jones, patriarch of Sierra Madre, his black eyes twinkling with kindness and good humor, dropped into 9 Kersting Ct. to wish us well.

There have been plenty of well-wishers the past ten weeks of our "Mission in Sierra Madre," this "Foothill City of Livability," but none that we cherish as much as the visit of this man who in his 90's drives his own car, gets around here and there in lively fashion, and shoulders the burdens and duties of both public and private responsibility.

We enjoyed our talk with him, the genuineness, not "smokescreenedness" of his good wishes to us, for there are times when an editor, being only human, does become bodily and mentally tired, and also a bit vexed with the scyphants who presumably wish him well and at the same time have their hands out for some personal favor or other.

Not so with C. W. Jones—he wanted nothing but to wish us well and to congratulate us on the progress which he said this newspaper has made since the first of the year.

We talked quite as spell. We enjoyed every minute of it for it certainly was inspirationally encouraging—and profitable for us. Drop in any time, C. W. Jones.

This Is Our Republicanism

This primarily is an Independent Republican newspaper —we wish to stress that designation "Independent."

In our official announcement in the Jan. 7 issue on taking over the Sierra Madre News and changing its political philosophy from Democratic to Independent Republican, we made this patently clear.

Now, we believe, it is time to reaffirm this statement so that there will be no misconception about where we stand.

NO ONE wishes for political peace in the Republican Party in California more than does the editor and publisher of this newspaper—but not Peace at Any Price.

We firmly believe that victory for the Republican Party in this state can come only after the elements which brought about its disastrous defeat in 1958 are definitely removed from control of the party, especially in Southern California. This has not been done.

We further believe that this can be done only through persistent and emphatic demand from the rank and file of the party, aided by progressively-minded leaders, especially the Young Republicans.

It is also our opinion that the chances of Richard M. Nixon to capture this state for the Presidency are questionable if control of the party remains in the hands of those who so blindly brought about its defeat two years ago. And this would be lamentable.

Otherwise, it will be from eight to 12 years before the present highly-organized, well-heeled Democratic Brown-Pauley-Ziffren dynasty is ousted, this despite the monumental governmental, political and economic mistakes Governor Brown constantly makes.

Please remember that there are 600,000 more registered Democrats in California than there are Republicans, and that the time when a large portion of these could be swung to Republican candidates is past—the Republicans can win only on a sanely progressive program—no smokescreening—and this particularly emphatic in its advocacy and carrying out of sensible tax reductions for a badly-harassed, tax-burdened citizenry.

WE HAVE been accused of promoting discord among the Republicans.

No such thing. What does a doctor do when he encounters a cancerous growth? In most instances he operates—cuts it out before it is too late.

This parallel applies today to the Republican Party in California, and it is the wider, not local aspect to which we must give most attention. The party has a cancerous growth which may be designated as "The Spring Street Boys" who introduced the disastrous Knowland-Right-to-Work fiasco in 1958, sidetracking Goodwin J. Knight when he could have beaten Pat Brown for the governorship, and which must be deleted—and soon—from control if the Republicans are to go on to victory.

THE REPUBLICAN Party began its pathway to political power in 1854 as a younger man's party. Abraham Lincoln typified the vigor of that party which was born progressively out of the reactionary ruins of the Whig Party, and in its political and economic virility went on to save the Union.

Today, the Republican Party is in an analogous position so far as its future is concerned. It must advance progressively else it die of reactionarism and status quo-ism. The blunt truth is that only Eisenhower has kept it in a vigorous position.

The present reactionary Republican setup in California, especially in Southern California, is incapable of that progressiveness necessary if the strongly entrenched Democratic organization is to be ousted.

Only a Young Republican element, thoroughly organized and financed and minus the traits of reactionarism that brought about the 1958 defeat can do the job. "Glossing over" the "cancerous reactionary festering" in a so-called but ephemeral plea for "peace at any price" won't bring victory. Harmony is necessary, of course, but only a harmony moving along in accord with progressive policies.

WE COMMENT this task to the Young Republicans. We have had complaints from Young Republicans in this area that they are shunted to one side when they attempt to air their own views and participate actively in the deliberations of their party.

This is not fair; nor is it wise, and we urge that the leaders of the party in this area afford the Young Republicans top billing with themselves. We ask the older leaders in this area, even though it is preponderantly Republican at the polls, to do this, to take the lead in doing so, for unless it is done—and soon—the party faces another stun-

Hiestand Confers With Leaders

Standing, from the left: Chester Swanson, representing a large group of Valley workers and employers; W. J. Valentine, publisher, Antelope Valley Ledger-Gazette and past president, A-V Progress Association; Col. C. L. Rawson, executive director, A-V Progress Association, and W. B. Carter, "Mr. Antelope Valley," owner of radio station KABL.

"Eck" was informed that Teamster Boss Jimmy Hoffa, in Sacramento recently, told his audience he had decided for his union members how they must vote in the coming congressional elections. Hoffa is trying to "purge" Rep. Hiestand and other members of Congress who supported the Landrum-Griffin Law. The measure gives union members more voice in the conduct of their unions, protection from misuse of union funds, and protection from racketeering labor bosses.

Shown here, the group inspects some of the "purge" material published by Hoffa, implying that he will decide in 56 congressional districts, including California's 21st, who shall represent the voters in Congress.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

A substantial increase in Arizona State aid to public schools bared the school fund cupboard long before the December, 1959, property tax delinquent date. An appeal for early remittance was addressed to all large property owners within the state. Both the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway and Southern Pacific Company were among those who responded to the appeal. Governor Fanning gratefully acknowledged this prompt cooperation to solve a temporary difficulty.

This incident denies the accusation of "soulless corporations" still too often leveled at our railroads. It illustrates the fact that in transportation the railroads alone share the ever-rising cost of local government. In many school districts through which the tracks of either railroad pass, these properties may pay as much as 75 per cent of total taxes.

Air lines, on the other hand, fly through the tax-free air between tax provided ports. Commercial highway transport takes advantage of property-tax exempt public roads. Their fuel tax is only a token user charge reserved for maintenance of these roads.

K. FRITZ SCHUMACHER.

To the Editor:

By use of innuendo, Paul Landwehr, candidate for the office of city treasurer, charges in his recent statement that W. Murray Hawkins, incumbent, has been dithering with city finances and has run away to escape facing the consequences.

By outright statement, he charges Hawkins with wilful neglect of duty and lack of personal responsibility.

The treasurer's annual report to the City Council denies these charges.

Can you prove your charges are true, Mr. Landwehr? I would like to see published documentation, chapter and verse, of proof of your charges. And facts, please, not fancy.

Otherwise, lay off the mud-slinging. Smeat may be acceptable on the levels of state and national politics. They are out of place and stupid in our own local politics.

Disgustedly,
ELEONA C. BROWN.

ning defeat next November and in the gubernatorial and Legislative elections to follow.

WE WISH to add somewhat to the earlier premise in this editorial about the Republicanism of this editor and this newspaper.

The late Victor Lawson who for years published the Chicago Daily News, then as now, a highly effective Republican newspaper, and who was a Midwestern power in the Republican Party, had a saying that it was published on two premises—that it was a private business with a public imprint.

We wish to make it crystal clear that publication of the Sierra Madre News also is predicated on the same premises—"a private business with a public imprint."

With all due respect to certain of our Republican brethren in this city we wish to say, most emphatically, that we, not others, will determine what our own political beliefs and philosophy will be.

And we wish to deny—also emphatically—the report that some persons in this city are circulating that we were once on the Democratic side of the fence.

As to our Americanism, we need only state that we hold six Freedoms Foundations awards for distinguished editorial writing; that only one other Californian, Bruce Russell, cartoonist of the Los Angeles Times, holds more; that we possess a National Headliners Award which next to the Pulitzer Prizes are more coveted by newspapermen than any other; that we were assistant press secretary to Governor Knight, and for eight years we turned out an out-and-out capitalist newspaper for the Merchants and Manufacturers Association in Los Angeles.

Around the Square

By Tommy-Ann Miller

"Doc" Alexander is not only one of the best tree experts around town, but he doesn't mind hiking to the job. Take last Saturday, for instance, when he and his assistant, Sam, hiked two and one-half miles into Winter Creek to fell a giant Douglas Fir. Happily, the big gas-powered saw and other tools could be packed in on one of Bill Adams' mules—but Doc preferred to hike (a cool, green morning for trailing by the stream).

At the cabin, Doc proceeded to size up the dead tree and figure out the best place to drop it—to avoid squashing the cabin, etc. Deftly the men sawed out a cheese-shaped wedge (on the top side) and began sawing the opposite side of the trunk.

Visiting tree-watchers, children, and other curious fauna posted themselves at a safe distance and waited for "TIMBER!"—when all 100 feet (diameter: 44½ inches) lurched over with a groan (was it really so dead?), bounced as it hit the canyon floor, spun around and lit in a veil of dust.

When the tree had been sawed into axable sections, the pack train returned for the equipment, and Doc took off at brisk pace up the homeward trail.

SLICK SHEIK. Nine-year-old Mike Dunnagan was a winsome sheik at the annual Woman's Club luncheon last week. Although he had only a day's notice, he got his role in the "Harem Belles" dance routine down pat.

Mike's mother, Barbara Dunnagan, and Jane Buchanan are two-thirds of the popular Harem Belles Trio (the third member, Myrt Waite, was unable to undulate due to her busy school bus driving schedule).

WHERE DO YOU go to register for the draft?—and it's still compulsory for young men to sign up within five days after their 18th birthday anniversary. Sierra Madrean, Dave Nelson, chairman of Board 91 (which includes Sierra Madre and parts of Arcadia and Pasadena), says the new office is at 553 S. Lake, Pasadena. Dave is one of three Selective Service board members on Board 91—keeping tabs on 10,000 potential draftees.

ADIOS AMIGOS. Dozens of friends gathered at the Joe Barden casa Saturday night for a farewell fiesta for Joe's Harry Elwood—who leave shortly to live in Mexico. A special serenade for Harry and Frances was composed by Mary Toms Ward, and sung by Mary Toms, Helen Hawkins and Mel McCoy (squeak). Party ploters: Mavis Sheets, Mel, Peggy Cheadle and Ruth Barden.

MAXINE DANOWSKY is still keeping off her toe (how?) and recently underwent a straightforward type operation on the troublesome tootsie, which has been in a cast since it was broken last May.

AND SPEAKING of breaks, little Debbie Edwards, daughter of Tom and Fern Edwards, who broke her left elbow playing "Rocket," is home after two days' mending at St. Luke Hospital.

SURSUM CORDA! Spring!—with sun-steamed fields of sweet alyssum and wild mustard... flowering fruit trees... sparkling foliage and hopeful buds... bright spikes of the ice plant... springing vine tendrils... sour grass, scissor plant and other glorious weeds... Mr. Dickenson's vast clusters of orange daisies... infinite shades of green... a tremendous budding and bursting.

IT MUST have been awfully hard on the wholly unprepared mountaineers of North Carolina last week to be so snowbound that only a series of food drops from helicopters saved them from starving. But any hard-pressed housewife can tell you she would almost be willing to be snowbound to see a substantial drop in food (prices).

THE AVERAGE American's idea of a balanced budget, either nationally or in the home, is one so big one can make two of it and carry one on each shoulder.

SINCERITY and loyalty are among the greatest of virtues. But every political campaign shows us that many persons can be sincerely loyal to some mighty stupid prejudices.

—Farmer McCabe.

On the Trails . . .

The 'Rescue' of Donald De Hut

By Bill Work

On the bright spring day of May 30, 1956, Donald De Hut, expert Huntington Park fisherman, gathered together his expensive fishing gear and left for our hills.

He told his wife that he was going to fish for the rainbow trout that abound in the sparkling streams and deep pools of Upper Bear Creek.

A tributary to the West Fork of the San Gabriel River, Bear Creek lies along the east boundary of the rugged Devils-Bear Canyon Wilderness Area. An area as wild and untouched as any place on earth.

When darkness descended upon the hills and Donald De Hut failed to return, his worried wife, Hazel, called the Sheriff's Department and reported her husband missing. She also said that they were a happily married pair, had few debts and that her husband liked to explore the out-of-way places to find the better fishing spots.

THE SAN DIMAS Mountaineers responded; they found his car, lonely and deserted, parked near the West Fork bridge. All night they provided the canyon with no success. Early in the morning the next day the Sierra Madre Team was called in to assist.

False witnesses reported seeing a man answering De Hut's description fishing in the West Fork, Bear Creek; one even said he had talked to De Hut and that he had crossed the Cogswell Dam and headed into the dangerous Devils Canyon.

With both teams scouring the mountains and finding no evidence of the missing De Hut, the Altadena Mountaineers were also called in.

For three weeks, under a flaming sky, 50 men from three rescue teams combed the canyons and hilltops. They covered from Devils Canyon to Bear Creek, all the canyons on both the north and south sides of the San Gabriel. They lowered each other over waterfalls, checking every pool.

Bill Wolfson, in waders, checked the middle of the flowing San Gabriel River all the way from Cogswell Dam to Dam No. 2.

One mountaineer passed out from heat exhaustion and had to be taken from the hills. Three were stranded overnight in the dangerous wild area.

IN MAKING their descent down the rubby slopes of Twin Peaks into the brush-choked Bear Creek tributary their boots wore out.

One of the group's leg was broken when hit by a falling boulder.

"We dropped 8,000 feet down those tricky slopes in a hurry," John Wells said. "The loose rock on those slopes was the thing that ruined our boots. The heels came off my boots and the nails started digging through my boot soles into my feet."

At the bottom of the canyon the trio had to chop their way through head-high brush and wade through pools as they criss-crossed the creek.

"We knew by 3 p.m. each day that we'd never make it out by night," Wells said. "We radioed Undersheriff Griggers and he flew over us, trying to find a place to land so he could fly us out. It was too steep and the evening winds got too tricky in those canyons."

"When a falling boulder hit Stiver on the left leg we knew we were done for." Griggers dropped blankets, food and headlamps loaned by the Sierra Madre Team and they were taken from the canyon the next day.

AS FAR AWAY as Bichota Canyon, residents sleeping in their cabins were awakened when the stillness of the dawn was broken by ever cheerful Robert La Lone's deep singing "Oh, We Are Three Bums, Three Jolly Good Bums. We'd Rather Eat Than Work."

Confused rattlesnakes thought a war was going on, their domain was being invaded, 33 falling before the searchers.

At the end of the third week, weary mountaineers were still looking under the brush and climbing the canyons, their equipment and boots tattered and torn from rough usage, when word was flashed over the mountains that Don De Hut was found, not in the mountains but in Salt Lake City, where he was working under the name of Don De Jack.

He reported that he had many family problems and was deeply in debt. He wanted to escape.

HE HAD DRIVEN to the West Fork, parked his car and hitch-hiked out of the canyon and had taken a bus to Salt Lake City. Don De Hut had one distinction as far as the members of the three mountain rescue teams were concerned—he was undoubtedly the most unpopular fisherman that ever entered our hills.

The full tragedy of this episode and of the false witnesses was not known until a few months later.

Your Congressman Reports . . .

Sugar-Coating Socialistic Spending

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Representative 21st
District, California

A favorite trick of the Socialistic planners and "spenders" is to give their projects "catchy" names. They do this for good reason. It's the old principle of "hitching" a ride. The bitter pill is easier to swallow if it's thickly sugar-coated. The prescription states—add liberal amounts of "Socialism" to the most worthy cause you can find. The dosage—as much as the patient can stand—as often as you can make him take it.

One of the most recent "sugar-coated" prescriptions is hiding under the name of the "Emergency Home Ownership Act." This bill, H.R. 10213, has been under consideration by the Banking and Currency Committee.

I'm a member of this committee, and with the other members of the committee spent many hours studying the provisions of this bill—weighing the facts given to support or oppose it.

Here's what we found: First, the title is misleading—there is no emergency. The so-called "emergency" is a myth that the "spenders" would like to have accepted as fact—to make the "pill" easier to swallow.

Home ownership is now being accomplished through private enterprise at the rate of 1.25 million units each year.

Second, it's highly inflationary—will increase the cost of living still more. The bill would create another "back door" customer for the Treasury, adding another billion dollars to your tax burden without further action by Congress.

Third, the bitterest part of this "pill" is that it takes a long step toward removing the whole mortgage industry out of private hands and placing it in the hands of government bureaucracy. The "sugar-coating" on this one is thin enough to see through.

ANOTHER of these Socialistic projects hitch-hiking under a "catchy" title was the additional—unneeded—$40 million "water pollution" subsidy. The President recognized the Socialism hiding behind the "sweetened" title. What this measure really called for was subsidization of construction of local community sewage treatment works. "Spenders" in Congress were unable to override the President's veto of this one.

Still another of these "prescriptions" raved in the news is titled "School Assistance Act of 1960." Its purpose is to use Federal tax dollars for school construction and teachers' salaries.

Heretofore, states, counties and communities have operated their own school systems, some much better than others. The Socialist planners now want to apply the theory of pure Socialism. Some $228 million in taxes would be collected from all the taxpayers, and distributed to states without any regard to need.

I'm sure you're interested in how much California will benefit from this scheme. Since California is one of the states doing a better job in education, instead of receiving any benefit from this scheme, it will cost you $42 million. Part of this will be spent in other states, but part of it will have to be spent for the added cost of new government bureaucracy. Furthermore, your cost for this program promises to get worse each year.

THERE ARE many Socialistic schemes already proposed, and you can be sure there will be many more before Congress adjourns. Every day the Socialistic "planners" are busy writing new "prescriptions" with different "sugar-coatings" and "catchy" names.

NOTICED THE other day that in Vermont cows now outnumbered people;—just off the freeway, I'm wondering if the cars outnumber people here.

I TAKE FULL credit for the wonderful California weather here in Washington this winter—at least for the past nine weeks, six days and 15 hours—the day we arrived I put on snow tires—but, that is all over—last week Jupiter dumped eight inches of snow all over us, and now another five. Berenice says California never looked so good.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

41 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 21, 1919—John Olsen returned from service in France direct to Sierra Madre, arriving here Monday, but departed for San Francisco after a few hours visit, to be mustered out. He will return home in a week or ten days.

Laurel E. Steinberger, affectionately known as "Ike," returned from the Aviation Department of the service in France yesterday and will resume his work at the Sierra Madre Garage Monday.

Lt. Glenn H. Klemme returned from overseas Saturday to gladden the hearts of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Klemme, who fought fear and uncertainty while he was fighting. Lt. Klemme saw active service on various battle fronts, but returned home in perfect health after two years of fighting.

20 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 22, 1940—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cate and daughter Nancy of 451 W. Grand View returned Sunday from the Southern California "Round the World" Trip which took them on a circle tour through Banning and Palm Springs to El Centro, and from there up into the Cuyamaca Mountains over the Devil's Pass and thence to San Diego and the Pacific.

Fred Krinke of 145 W. Carter Ave., this city, reached the top ladder at the Monrovia Elks Lodge Tuesday night when he was elected exalted ruler.

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 23, 1950—Square dancing and several entertainment features will highlight the dedication to-morrow evening of Sierra Madre's new post office. Doors of the new office, 303 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., will be open at 8 a.m. Square dancing will begin at 8:15. Postmaster Eddie D. Robertson emphasizes that there will be no speeches, only brief expressions of welcome from two or three officials.

Mrs. E. K. McTavish and son, Gordon, of 164 San Gabriel Ct., returned Monday evening from a weekend at Santa Barbara. During their stay they visited Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Irvine, former Sierra Madreans.

5 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK, March 24, 1955—Five girls this week were named Princesses to serve during the annual Wistaria Festival. They are Elaine Parks, 16, of 449 W. Orange Grove Ave.; Georgia Peterson, 18, of 145 San Gabriel Ct.; Naomi Vejar, 17, of 476 Sturtevant Dr.; Kirby Barron, 16, of 335 Sierra Madre Villa, and Jeannine Bernard of 129 S. Lotus Ave., Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Barrett are the parents of a daughter born Tuesday, March 22, at Huntington Memorial Hospital. The little miss tipped the scales at nine pounds, one and one-half ounces, and has been named Elisa Mae. The father is associated with his father, R. G. Barrett, in operation of the Barrett Nursery, 192 N. Mountain Trail.

Miracle of Feeding 5,000 Is Topic of Rev. Hansen

"The miracle of Jesus feeding the 5,000 is that there is no end to the benefits we receive from Him," the Rev. Ray E. Hansen will say in his sermon, "Feeding the Multitude," at 10 a.m. Sunday, at Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., Sierra Madre. "During this miracle Jesus reveals Himself to us as the basic food for the health of our souls."

Pastor Hansen will point that in life today there are many who do not see past the wonder of multiplying five loaves and two fishes to the significance of Jesus, just as many on the day of the miracle did not grasp the teaching.

"Many were carried away by enthusiasm for the miracle itself," he will say, "So when in their excitement they sought to seize Christ and make him their king, He withdrew to the hills. This teaches us that there are times when God seems to withdraw from us when He sees we would try to make him into the kind of a king that we want Him to be, instead of allowing Him to be the king over us in the way He wishes to rule."

"We cannot force God to do our bidding or perform miracles for us. But when we acknowledge His kingly rule through Christ, then God is able to use us and bring His will and purposes to pass in a way that is best for us."

The choir will sing the anthem, "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones."

NEXT WEDNESDAY at Lenten Vespers at 8 p.m. Joseph Hague of Holland, concert violinist, will play his own composition, "Devotion," a prayer, on his Italian violin made by Testore in 1739 in Milano.

After the worship, he will perform several of his popular selections in concert. The public is invited.

Hague studied in Europe and began to play publicly at the age of 9. Later he traveled extensively on concert tours until during World War II when he was imprisoned by the Nazis.

The cruelest blow of the confinement, in addition to breaking his health, the Nazis confiscated his valuable violin. Ironically at the same time his home was destroyed during an English air raid.

In 1945 Hague was freed by Allied troops and came to the United States with his family. He has made several recordings and tours in this country and plans a European tour. A Lutheran he lives with his wife and three children in Inglewood.

Christian Science Topic Is 'Reality'

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the Christian Science churches the coming Sunday. The main theme is that spiritual understanding foresees and beholds divine reality, detects and forestalls evil, and brings progressive improvement to the human footsteps moving toward God, good.

JOSEPH HAGUE, Holland Dutch concert violinist, who will play at the Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church vesper service next Wednesday night.

Mission to Start Sunday At St. Rita's

The Rev. Thomas O'Malley, pastor, and the Rev. James Walsh, assistant pastor, of St. Rita's Church, Baldwin and Grand View Aves., Sierra Madre, announce the opening of a parish Mission beginning next Sunday at 7 o'clock Mass, and closing the following Sunday, April 3.

The Mission will be under the direction of two members of the Passionist congregation from Mater Dolorosa Retreat House, Sierra Madre, Father Plus, C.P., assisted by Father Vincent, C.P.

All members of the parish and their friends, both Catholic and non-Catholic, are cordially invited to attend the Mission.

BORN IN Loyal, Wis., Father Plus received his early education in local schools and at St. Lawrence College, Mt. Calvary, Wis. This college is one of the oldest institutions of learning in that section of the country, celebrating its centenary this year.

Father's philosophy and theology courses were taken at Passionist Monasteries in St. Louis, Mo., and Cincinnati, Ohio. He received his Master's degree at De Paul University, Chicago, and has done postgraduate work at the Detroit and Chicago Universities, and Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

For 28 years he has been a teacher for the students and young priests of the Passionist Fathers.

Prior to coming to Sierra Madre, he had gained an enviable reputation as a preacher of missions and retreats in the Midwest and Southern States. He has been active here in the West, and conducted the week-end retreats at Sierra Madre. He has given a series of radio broadcasts over stations in Chicago, Detroit, and Birmingham, Alabama, and has appeared locally on television. Currently he is speaking over station KRLA, Pasadena, in the "Spirit of Today" programs.

THE MISSION masses during the week will be at 6:15 and 8 and 8:45 o'clock. Evening services are at 7:45. All are cordially invited by the pastor of St. Rita's Church, Father Thomas O'Malley.

Sisterhood Will Conduct Services

Rabbi Ephraim F. Einhorn, spiritual leader of Temple Beth David of the San Gabriel Valley, announces that Sisterhood Sabbath will be held at the Temple Friday at 8:30 p.m. The Shabbat Services will be conducted by members of the Sisterhood of Temple Beth David.

A narrative and choral group made up of Sisterhood Board Members, accompanied by the Temple Choir and by Mrs. Charles Lich, 710 Encino, Arcadia, at the organ, will present a dramatic sketch entitled "Tending Her Alter." The Temple is located on Longden at Kauffman in Temple City.

Dr. Schaper Will Preach

Next Sunday morning Dr. Robert Schaper will return to the pulpit at Bethany Church after a 12-day trip into the jungles of Southern Mexico.

Dr. Schaper will return tomorrow, Friday, from a missionary tour of the jungle training camps of Wycliffe Bible Translators. This tour, restricted to a limited number of pastors, has the purpose of familiarizing the local minister with the problems of back country missionary work as well as the training program sponsored by Wycliffe to train their translators for living under primitive conditions.

Plans have also been announced for a missionary emphasis month at Bethany for May 15 through June 5.

Lutheran Club Plans Dinner

The Mr. and Mrs. Club of Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Dr., has extended an invitation to all couples of the church to a Japanese style dinner. The dinner will be served on Sunday evening (March 27) from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Miyako Restaurant in Pasadena.

Serving as hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. H. Wessels, Mr. and Mrs. R. Fehring and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gerke. Reservations may still be made by calling ELgin 5-1250.

The Sunday School staff of the church will meet on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Plans will be made for the Sunday School Easter service.

The fifth Midweek Lenten service is scheduled for next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. Armin Hesse has chosen as his sermon, "Tears—for Christ or for Self?," the fifth in his series on "Lenten Decisions."

Father, Son Banquet at Methodist

Fathers and sons of the Sierra Madre Methodist Church will get together Monday Evening, at 6:45 o'clock for their annual banquet and evening of Christian fellowship.

C. F. Lighthizer, President, Methodist Men's Fellowship.

The Women's Society is planning a wonderful baked ham dinner, scalloped potatoes, cole slaw, and home-made lemon pie for the large appetites of the men and boys.

The program will include movie films of the Los Angeles Rams "Highlights of 1959," and science film "Eye to the Unknown."

Second Isaiah Study Topic Of Fortnighters

The Fortnighters, adult Bible study group at the Congregational Church, will study the 40th through the 55th chapters of Isaiah at their meeting this week.

This portion of the book of the prophet Isaiah, generally known as Second Isaiah, or Deutero Isaiah, is the spiritual high point of the Old Testament. In his doctrine of God, in his concept of the Suffering Servant, and in his ethical monotheism, the unknown prophet of the Exile, whose writings are attached to the Book of Isaiah, reaches heights which are unmatched in the Old Testament, and which find their fulfillment in the mission of Jesus.

All who are interested in deepening their understanding of the Old Testament are invited to participate in the discussion. The group will meet this month in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carlson, 277 Ramona St. The meeting is at 8 o'clock this Friday.

Ascension Stations Of Cross Friday And Wednesday

The Stations of the Cross will be held at the Church of the Ascension Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m. and Wednesday, March 30, at 9 a.m. for those unable to attend Friday.

The Lenten study group will meet for their weekly Corporate Communion at 9 a.m. Friday, March 25, to be followed by a light breakfast in the Parish House and continued discussion of "Growth in Prayer" directed by the Rev. Harley G. Smith, Jr.

Child care will be provided at 310 N. Sunnyside.

'Joy' Topic Sunday for Dr. Barnhart

"The Power of Joy" is the sermon topic of Dr. Ethel Barnhart, minister of the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 226 West Colorado Blvd., Arcadia, Sunday morning at the 11 a.m. worship service.

The Bible text will be: "A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth: and a word spoken in due season, how good is it." (Proverbs 15:23) Child care is provided during the service.

During Lent, the open Bible Class conducted every Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock will be devoted to preparing the consciousness for a personal Easter experience. Part of the meeting is devoted to healing.

THE SUBJECT of the Pre-Easter Class Tuesday evening, March 29 at 8 p.m. is "The Power of Mind Control." This class is open to the public.

Junior church for children from pre-school through the eighth grade meets at 11 o'clock Sunday evening.

MEN'S FELLOWSHIP PLANS "GARAGE SALE"

The Men's Fellowship of the Congregational Church will hold a "Garage Sale" in Pritchard Hall from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. this coming Saturday. Tools, sporting goods, camping equipment, plumbing fixtures, wire, electrical fixtures, lumber, and boat-lifting equipment will be featured. Friends are invited to clean out their garages and workshops, bringing the material to the church between 9 and 5 o'clock on Thursday or Friday.

Bargain hunters are alerted to be present Saturday to find just that item they have been seeking for mountain cabin, seashore cottage, car, or boat.

Kappa Alpha Theta to Celebrate Founders' Day

Southern California Federation of Kappa Alpha Theta will celebrate the sorority's 90th Anniversary at a Founders' Day Brunch next Saturday in the Biltmore Hotel Ballroom, beginning at 11:30.

Pasadena Junior Alumnae will be in charge of decorations which will have potted yellow tulips to carry out a spring motif.

Mrs. B. K. Brackman and Mrs. Frederick N. Pauly will be among those at the speakers' table.

It is the custom of the Founders' Day celebration to contribute to the "Friendship Fund" which not only benefits Theta but any worthy student. College women from five foreign countries have been awarded fellowships to continue their studies in leading universities throughout the United States.

TRI DELTAS

Miss Judith B. Moore of Arcadia Public Library will be guest speaker at the regular meeting of the junior group of Pasadena Area alumnae of Delta Delta Delta to be held March 29 in the La Canada home of Mrs. Mervin E. Johnson, 223 Kirt St., at 7:30 p.m.

Interested Tri Deltas are encouraged to attend this dessert business meeting and to bring guests. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Johnson at SYcamore 0-6972.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

Mrs. Richard Parker, 2014 Camden Rd., South Pasadena, will open her home next Tuesday for a 12 o'clock noon bridge luncheon, the annual spring benefit given by the daytime group alumnae of Alpha Chi Omega.

Since the sorority is celebrating its 75th year since its founding at DePauw University in Indiana, this year's benefit will be planned around a "Diamond Jubilee" theme.

Proceeds from this benefit will be used to purchase a gift for one of the collegiate chapters in Southern California.

The sorority's annual fall benefit supports the National Cerebral Palsy work through the Crippled Children's Society of Los Angeles County.

The president, Mrs. Thomas L. Lowe, has announced the card party committee includes Mrs. Wayne Keenan, Mrs. Sidney Boggs and Mrs. Paul Watson.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Ludman, Mrs. Lauren Shaffer, Mrs. R. A. Leabrand, Mrs. Hugh Kyle and Mrs. John Padrich.

SIERRA MADRE DAR

Sierra Madre Chapter, National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Monday evening at 7:30 in the Park House.

The program will include reports of the 52nd annual conference of the State Society of the National held at the Statler-Hilton Hotel March 15 through 18. The local chapter was awarded a prize at this time for increase in membership.

Sierra Madre Chapter was represented at the conference by Mrs. A. S. Myers, regent, Mrs. Archer S. Frey, Mrs. James C. Greer, Mrs. Thomas H. Bailey, Mrs. Dorothy Baumbach, Mrs. Owen Becker, Mrs. Walter Gardner and Miss Marjorie Taylor. Hostesses for Monday's meeting will be Mrs. Gardner and Miss Taylor.

ST. RITA'S GUILD

Mrs. Charles Weber and Mrs. Clyde Edwards, health chairman and co-chairman, and Mrs. Anthony Landa, Red Cross chairman, represented St. Rita's Guild yesterday when a Health Workshop, sponsored by the Community Health Association, Inc., was held in Los Angeles.

The program opened, in the Biltmore Theater, with the showing of "The Terrible Truth," a film dealing with narcotic addiction, and was followed by a panel discussion on "Youth and Community Problems."

Luncheon was served in the Biltmore Bowl with Dr. Andie Knutson, public health

First Birthday

The first birthday anniversary of Stephen John Misch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Misch of 420 E. Laurel, Sierra Madre, was celebrated with a party attended by 11 of Stephen's young friends.

Those attending were Willard and James Mescher, Robert John, Theodore and Marissa Ann Velasquez, Kimberly Ann and William Penny, James Karelius, Denise Sheppard, David and Jonicka Goetsch.

Society Elects New Officers

Election of officers for 1960-1961 and election of new trustees marked the annual meeting and tea of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society at Five Acres, the society's home for emotionally disturbed children at 760 Mountain View Rd., Altadena.

New officers include Mrs. J. Chalmers Wright, serving her third term as president; E. K. Davies, first vice president; Mrs. John Dean Barick, second vice president; Edward H. LeBreton, treasurer; Mrs. Curtis A. Abel, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Rook, corresponding secretary.

New trustees elected to the board of the 60-year-old agency were Mrs. Reid Briggs, Mrs. Edward R. Chilcott, Alfred Esberg, Edward H. LeBreton, Mrs. Samuel M. Mardigan and Mrs. Carole F. Stout.

Founded at the turn of the century, the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, a Community Chest Agency, provides a home for children of broken or disrupted families. Although located in Altadena since 1925, the agency serves the entire Los Angeles County. Children range in age from 6 to 14 years, live dormitory style in cottages under the care of housemothers, and attend local schools.

In addition to the 33-man board of trustees, Leet Bissell, Roger Bone, R. L. Gifford and Mrs. John Marble are honorary members, and Mrs. Walter S. Young is a life member.

Lecturer from University of California at Berkeley, who spoke on "Motivation."

The session was closed with a discussion on "The Senior Citizen," held in the Biltmore Music Room.

Rose Parade Tournament Offers Prize for Theme

The public is invited to submit suggestions for a theme to be used in the decoration of the 60 floats in the Rose Parade to be held in Pasadena, California on Jan. 2, 1961, it is announced by Arthur W. Althouse, 72nd Tournament of Roses president.

The winner will experience the thrill of viewing, with a guest, the famed floral procession from the official reviewing stand and seeing the Rose Bowl Game from choice seats on the 50-yard line. The Tournament Association will also provide the winner with two tickets to other important tournament functions, including the coronation and ball and the distinguished guests luncheon.

During the month-long contest, which ends at midnight on April 15, interested persons may submit as many entries as they chose, but only one idea may be included on each postcard mailed in. Postcards and not letters are to be submitted in that the former facilitate sorting, classifying and filing of the thousands of entries that come in from all over the country.

CARDS MUST be addressed to the Tournament of Roses Association, 181 South Los Robles Ave., Pasadena, Calif.

Last year's theme, "Tall Tales and True," was sent in by Eric Swanson, a Whittier stockroom clerk. In addition to being a guest at many functions as a winner of the theme contest, he presented the theme prize at the world premiere of the 1960 Rose Parade film in February.

Some of the past parade themes have been: "Our American Heritage," "Joyful Living," "Dreams in the Future," "Melodies in Flowers," "Famous Books in Flowers," "Pages from the Ages," "Daydreams," "Adventures in Flowers," and "Tall Tales and True."

Auxiliary To Present Style Show

Fashions from the Hawaiian Islands will be on display April 2 at a luncheon sponsored by Santa Anita Auxiliary of the Children's Home Society, at Chef's Inn.

Seven stages in the development of the popular Hawaiian muu-muu from missionary days to the present will be a highlight.

Fashions shown will be from the Pauline Lake Shop in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, Honolulu.

Ruth Rogers, fashion and travel consultant for the Matson Lines, will be commentator.

Mrs. Grover Brown heads the committee making plans. Working with her are Mmes. Paul Uhl, William Harper and Aldon Damon.

"Festival de Modas," an invitational Latin American fashion show for the benefit of the Catholic Youth Organization, will be presented at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Zak, 515 Madre, Pasadena, Saturday, April 30.

Guests of honor will be Superior Court Judge and Mrs. Carlos Teran. The entire motif will be Latin American. Fashions will be shown by Wessels of Sierra Madre. Cocktails will be served and there will be music and entertainment.

Arrangements for the show are being made by the CYO Fashion Show Guild under the general chairmanship of Mrs. John W. Healy.

Pianist To Conduct Master Class

Rosalyn Tureck, Bach pianist, in addition to her concert at Pasadena Civic Auditorium tomorrow evening, will also give a Master Class in Bach interpretation on Saturday from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

She has lectured on Bach at the Philadelphia Conservatory of Music, the Mannes School, the Juilliard School and Columbia University.

Those chosen at a preliminary audition to perform on the Tureck Master Class were Sharon Lippman, Toccata in D Minor; Wallace Welch, Toccata in G Minor; Mary Jane Tashiro, French Overture, and Carl Matthes, English Suite in G Minor.

Jana Rudbach

Jana Rudbach to Wed Raymond J. Holton

Mrs. Lola Whitcomb Rudbach, 119 Esperanza, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Jana Christine, to Robert Wayne Holton of Glendale, son of Raymond J. Holton of Arizona.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Sierra Madre Elementary School, John Marshall Junior High School and Pasadena High School. She has just completed a course in practical nursing.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Glendale High School and is a specialist in the California National Guard.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mrs. A. W. Kintz Appointed New Center Director

Mrs. F. J. Finucane, president of the Board of Trustees of Pasadena Senior Center, recently announced appointment of Mrs. Adelaide Woodworth Kintz as the center's executive director.

The center, located in Pasadena's Memorial Park, will open officially Sunday, May 22, and daily thereafter, there will be a full schedule of activities especially planned for the older adults.

Heart Council To Meet In Pasadena

"Evaluation of Heart Patients Prior to Returning to Work" will be discussed by guest speakers, Robert Stivelman, M.D., and Wallace G. Fasher, M.D., at the quarterly luncheon meeting of San Gabriel Heart Council to be held next Wednesday at the Green Hotel.

A report on the recent fund campaign will be given by Mrs. Fenton Taylor, regional Heart Sunday chairman. The agenda will also include the election of new officers.

Joint PTA Meeting Held Tonight

Dr. Robert E. Jenkins, will give a progress report of Pasadena City School tonight, at 7:30, when there will be joint meeting of Marshall Junior High School and Pasadena High School PTAs and elementary schools in the Marshall area, in the auditorium at Marshall.

The flag salute will be led by Boy Scout Troop 34 and the Rev. George Lindsay will lead the devotionals. Special music will be provided by the Senior Glee Club and Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Marguerite Hougassian and Calvin Raney.

The final Marshall PTA meeting of the year will precede the program with the election of officers for the coming year on the agenda.

Several members of the Board of Education will be present to answer questions concerning the third high school.

LANTERNS ARE STOLEN
Mrs. Robert G. Oliver of 309 Sycamore Pl., Sierra Madre, reported to police the theft of lanterns from the premises. Last December kerosene lanterns and tires were stolen from the Oliver place.

Suzanne de Truan School of Ballet proudly announces the opening of Tap Classes for Boys and Girls.

Classes will be conducted by Mr. Robert Bruce, formerly of Hollywood, who was the choreographer for many motion picture studios. He also has conducted classes for children and has been highly recommended by their parents, as being very patient and kind.

Mr. Bruce has a five-year-old daughter and understands the psychology of children.

Suzanne de Truan feels that much training in ballet, grace and poise has been given to the girls and the boys have been neglected so far as dance training is concerned. She feels that the boys need and will benefit by this constructive outlet.

Anyone interested in joining these Tap Classes please call SY. 6-2610. Classes will begin the first week in April at 51 N. Baldwin Ave., Sierra Madre.

Settember Will Compete In $20,000 Riverside Race

By Joe Scalzo

Sierra Madre's Tony Settember will be competing against some of the world's greatest drivers April 3 when he will race in the second annual Examiner Grand Prix at the three-mile Riverside course.

Settember will be driving a 4.9 Ferrari in this $20,000 event which already has drawn such drivers as Roger Ward, winner of last year's Indianapolis 500-mile classic; Jack Brabham, the 1959 world champion of automobile racing; Stirling Moss of England, perhaps the world's best racer, and a score of other top competitors from the United States and abroad.

For Tony, this will be his first race in the Ferrari. This also will be the most important race in which he has competed.

"The main things I want to do," Tony stresses, "are to qualify for the race, and

Gordon B. Lloyd Holds New Trade Magazine Post

Gordon Baker Lloyd, former Sierra Madrean, has been named West Coast representative of Garden Supply Merchandiser, a trade magazine, with headquarters at 8943 Wilshire Blvd., Beverly Hills.

Often termed the dean of garden broadcasters, Lloyd has spent 25 years in radio, the last ten of which included regular television broadcasting from his permanent outdoor garden studio at ABC headquarters in Universal City.

Lloyd began to develop his apprenticeship for magazine publication under tutelage of his father, a widely-known editor and member of the Pacific Press Organization. At an early age, he learned to set type, run presses, handle makeup and do all the initial chores of a printer's devil, from cleaning rollers to gradual exposure in the finer techniques of the graphic arts.

the entire length of the city and carries a considerable volume of traffic. Another, and perhaps of prime importance, is the fact that with so many streets dead-ending at Orange Grove, there should be adequate lighting to protect these dangerous intersections.

5—From Michillinda to the east city limits and Highland Ave., from Michillinda to Canon Ave., with a 376 per cent increased illumination. Of this area the report says that "these streets would definitely be classed as primary and secondary feeders, with particular attention given to the school zones which border these streets."

6—Michillinda Blvd., Lima St., and Mountain Ave., with a 365 per cent increased illumination. Of this territory, the report says that "although these streets are residential in classification, they traverse the width and breadth of the city and it is extremely important that they be adequately lighted."

7—Residential streets in Baldwin area, with a 403 per cent increase in illumination. 8—Residential sections east of Baldwin with a 414 per cent increase in light.

STATE FARM CUTS CAR INSURANCE RATES FOR MILLIONS

A new rating plan from State Farm reduces rates for many careful drivers! It's a pin-pointed system for determining the rate that's fair for YOU personally. It matches you with one of nearly 100 driver classifications—according to your age, your sex, family members who drive your car, where you drive, how much you drive, and what you use your car for. It's more accurate in determining YOUR fair rate. And whatever your classification, you're pretty sure to pay less with State Farm than most folks pay elsewhere. Contact me today.

Roess Market Plans 2-Day Open House

26 Prizes Will Be Given Away April 1, Celebrating New Modern Meat Market

Dave Roess of the Roess Market at 331 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. at Lima, announces that the market will celebrate completion of its newly modernized meat department by having an open house, Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2.

Coffee and cookies will be served and 26 PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN AWAY.

All you need to do is to leave your name at the market—you need not be present at the drawings which will take place every half-hour on Friday, April 1. Everyone is eligible to win, including all merchants. The only exceptions are Roess Market employees.

THE PRIZES will be displayed in the shops listed on today's Roess Market page and which emphasizes the fact that you can do better by shopping in your Sierra Madre stores where there always is convenient parking, courteous service and top quality products and reasonable prices.

Roess Market has seen many changes since Feb. 10, 1938, when F. L. C. (Fritz) Roess and David Roess purchased it from George Morris. There are now six butchers, and added to the meat department is the following equipment:

A 15 by 15 walk-in meat box, overhead rails with automatic switches, another new power saw and new track scale.

Peggy Lusman to Direct 'Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week'

Declaring that "A Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign not only makes present living more pleasant, but it is a key to a more profitable future," John H. Curtis, president of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, has named a supervisory committee of eight for the observance in this city April 11-16.

The committee comprises: Peggy Lusman, Sierra Madre Paint and Wallpaper Store, 35 N. Baldwin, chairman.

Charles E. Brown, Sierra Madre fine chief.

Tom M. Schwartz, Sierra Madre Hardware Store, 25 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Joseph Delgatto, Pantorium drive-in cleaners, 330 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

William A. Webster, Webster's Insurance, 160 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

John C. McKibben, McKibben Furniture, 47 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Ralph Hurwit, chairman of the C. of C. Merchants Division, Ralph's Shoe Store, 41 N. Baldwin.

Don Jackson, Don's Store for Men, 18 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

"As our community improves in appearance, health hazards are reduced and fire losses go down," added President Curtis. "There will be an increase in economic activity—tourists will be attracted to our beauty and cleanliness and still stop in Sierra Madre for lunch or to shop here.

"AS YOU probably know, when industrial plants or any new businesses consider expansion, a company official is sent to check various communities. A clean, attractive city rates high because it is apparent that its citizens are interested in better living. And this attracts a fine type of employee who wants to raise his children in a healthy environment.

"Needless to say, we want new enterprise in Sierra Madre. The Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign is a specific road toward making our hopes a reality.

"It's good business for every one of us and an investment for the future—therefore, I urge each one to support the Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Campaign," Curtis concluded.

CHAIRMAN LUSMAN of the supervising committee issued the following statement:

"What are some of the aims of our proposed program? Fire prevention, for example. Firemen have a saying, 'a clean house seldom burns.' You will find that an active program of this type will, over a period of time, reduce insurance premiums.

"By getting rid of clothing heaps, old newspapers and rags, flammable cleansers, by disposing of dried leaves near your foundation, by checking wiring, chimney and furnace you are 'fighting fire before it starts.'

"Should fire start from some uncontrollable factor, you still benefit from clean-up activities as fireman can quickly bring it under control since the flames will not have trash to feed on. A family, the home and possessions are as 'fireproof' as possible if they actively participate in a clean-up program.

"Maintaining and increasing property value is another important result of a campaign of this type. Our home is our largest investment and we should protect it accordingly. We should repaint, repair, clean, plant. Our resale value will jump considerably greater than the sums we spend.

Young Artists Plan Concert

San Gabriel Valley Symphony will hold its annual Young Artists Concert Sunday, April 3, at 3 p.m. in Monrovia-Duarte High School Auditorium. No admission will be charged.

This is the third annual competition for young artists in the San Gabriel Valley. Two $100 scholarships will be awarded. Guest conductor will be Bertil van Boer, a native of Stockholm, Sweden.

"For example, in a nationwide survey, real estate experts agreed that a good paint job increases the value of a house approximately 12 per cent. And if we encourage our neighbors to cooperate, our entire neighborhoods will go up in value, at the same time our home enjoyment will increase among clean, attractive surroundings—certainly an important value, too."

Instrumental Classes Need Musicians

All musicians who are in the area are urged to retain, maintain and increase their musicianship through membership and regular attendance in the instrumental classes of the Monrovia-Duarte Evening High School.

Frank Bradley, leader of two of the classes has stated there are openings for all instruments in the Concert Band class, Tuesday nights from 7 p.m. to 10.

Concert Band members should be adults or high school graduates of any age, and should have had several years of good concert band or large dance band experience.

Behind the Scenes In U.S. Business

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—Economists who watch carefully the trends in United States exports and imports are currently showing a cheerful countenance. The factory worker may be too busy to wonder whether there's a ready overseas market for the product he helps make, but to economists our foreign trade balance is an important barometer of economic health.

The current cheer comes initially from December figures which showed U.S. exports at $1.67 billion, highest for any month since late 1957. Among individual businesses sharing in the up-trend is machine tool manufacturing; orders from abroad continued an advance sustained all through 1959 and in December hit a three-year peak.

The export up-trend is important because imports in recent years have steadily pared the gap, and as recently as last week one congressional committee said action to promote exports was becoming "imperative." However, action may not now be needed; some economists are confident exports will continue upward in the months ahead.

One source predicts exports this year will considerably widen the gap over imports, which in 1959 totaled about $15 billion—a record—versus exports of about $17.5 billion. The source anticipates a $1.4 billion net improvement in our foreign trade position.

CONVERSION—A big switch to gas for house heating, making it the nation's No. 1 comfort heating fuel, has resulted in the installation of 1,046,700 furnaces, 136,200 boilers, and 156,300 gas conversion burners in the past year alone.

A furnace, of course, produces warm air heating; a boiler involves either steam or hot water heat. Both systems are readily understood by most householders.

Contest Finalist

BOBBIE JEAN BATES, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Gene Bates, 510 Foothill Ave., Sierra Madre, a fifth grader in Sierra Mesa School, advanced to the finals in the talent contest co-sponsored by Pasadena Recreation Department and the Exchange Club.

She previously appeared as a dancer with the Burbank Youth Symphony Orchestra, solo dancer with Bert Prival's Children's Ballet Company, and the Debbie Reynolds Show.

Nice and Encouraging

Our faith in human nature has received a Diogenian boost this past week.

Also our belief in the selling powers of the SIERRA MADRE NEWS. We'll tell you the refreshing story.

Some one purchased five copies of the Sierra Madre News from the news rack in front of the old Safeway Store next to the First Western Bank and Trust Company. Incidentally, the last five on the rack. Nice plugging, eh?

The purchaser found the cash depository jammed full of dimes, nickels and pennies—no more room for cash there.

So he—or she, Lord bless them—placed a nice, shiny half dollar—it was easy to see and steal—on top of the rack.

Our street sales manager, Leo E. Sharp, during his rounds Friday morning, found the 50-cent piece still atop the rack—no one had taken it.

Now isn't that nice—and encouraging?

LEGAL NOTICE

SIERRA MADRE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 68 (SUFFOLK AVENUE) NOTICE OF RECORDING DIAGRAM AND ASSESSMENT NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the diagram and assessment in the matter of Sierra Madre Assessment District No. 68 (Suffolk Avenue) of the City of Sierra Madre, for the acquisition of necessary rights of way, the grading, preparation of subgrade, construction of concrete curbs and gutters, concrete cross-gutter, pavement with asphaltic plant mix, construction of post and cable fence, and appurtenant work thereon, all as described in Resolution of Intention No. 1677 adopted January 26, 1960, have been recorded in the office of the Superintendent of Streets of the City of Sierra Madre on the 8th day of March, 1960, and that all sums assessed in said diagram and assessment became due and payable upon the recording of said diagram and assessment, and that the payment of the sums is to be made to said Superintendent of Streets within thirty (30) days after the date of recording of the diagram and assessment, and if not paid within thirty (30) days thereafter, except for all unpaid assessments for which bonds are to be issued, shall become delinquent and thereupon, for all assessments unpaid for which bonds are not to be issued five (5) per cent of the amount of each such assessment shall be added thereto, and the property advertised for sale, as provided for by law.

Serial bonds shall be issued in accordance with Division 7, Streets and Highways Code (Improvement Act of 1911), to represent each assessment of fifty dollars ($50.00) or more remaining unpaid for thirty (30) days after the date of the recording of the diagram and assessment for this improvement. The serial bonds shall extend over a period ending nine (9) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next September first following their date. The principal sum shall become due and payable in equal annual payments on the 15th day of each October succeeding the September first following their date until fully paid. The first interest payment shall be payable on the 15th day of April next succeeding the March 1st or the 15th day of October next succeeding the September 1st, as the case may be, next following the date of the bonds. The following interest payments shall each be for six months interest and shall be payable on each 15th day of April and October, the last interest payment coming due the October 15th immediately preceding the last annual payment of the principal. The bonds shall bear interest at a rate to be determined on the sale thereof provided, however, that said rate shall not exceed the maximum rate of 6 per cent per annum. J. P. BUZZINI, Superintendent of Streets of the City of Sierra Madre, California. Publish March 17, 24, 31, 1960.

HOW IS PROPERTY SELLING? That's a question that we are asked most every day. Frankly the way property "moves" when it is offered for sale depends a lot on how it is handled. For this reason we suggest that you consult our firm. Moving property is our business. If you really want to sell, place full confidence in us. We won't let you down.

Good Neighbor Awards Dinner Tickets on Sale

Civic interest in the Good Neighbor Dinner to be staged Thursday, April 7, at 7 o'clock in the Woman's Clubhouse by the combined forces of the Sierra Madre Civic Club and the Coordinating Council, is gaining steadily and it is hoped to have a large turnout for this noteworthy community affair.

Prime interest is centered in the presentation by the Civic Club of an award to the person voted as the Outstanding Citizen of 1959. To qualify he or she must be a local resident and to have performed an outstanding local service in 1959.

Equally outstanding will be installation of new officers by the Coordinating Council and the presentation of Youth Awards for outstanding Good Neighbor services.

Tickets to the dinner are $2.50 each, with reservations closing April 4. For tickets please call Mrs. Edward Chapman, ELgin 5-3928.

Attorney John H. Larson of Anson, Gieves, Dows and Larson of Los Angeles, representing the Toyon Rd. residents, urged emergency legislation to nullify the Planning Commission's action. He explained fully the dangers which will ensue through fills and slides, removal of trees and other erosions if the Prescott Company's plans are carried out.

COUNCIL ACCEPTED the Planning Commission's report validating variances for two prospective sites for a new post office. These are the Thomas Miller Jr. property at 98 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., and the Case property at 65 S. Baldwin. The government leases the land to a builder who then erects the building, leasing it the government.

Council approved fingerprinting of city employees as requested by the City Employees Association. A new vacation arrangement proposed by the same unit was held over pending study.

The Arcadia Investment Co., seeking approval for a limited area TV tower in the territory above the Wistaria Vine site, was asked to make a written outline for Council's consideration. This master antenna would serve some 28 homes in this new tract.

RESIGNATION of Building Inspector Clyde Johnson was accepted, effective April 15. He has accepted a better paying post with the Pasadena School System.

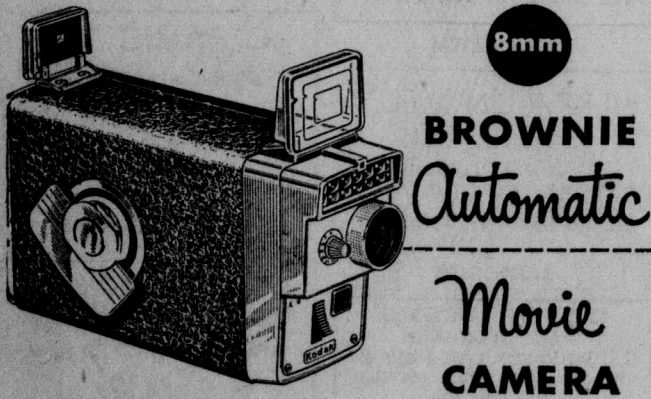

The salary of Assistant City Administrator Tom Butch was advanced from $480 to $500 a month. Administrator Bevington reported that Butch has done a good job as his assistant.

Request by the Arcadia Investment Co. for a lot split in Tract 21644 was put over until the next meeting. Administrator Bevington reported that the proposed split does not meet requirements. A public hearing was ordered for April 12 on the proposed lot split by the Fratt Tract on Orange Grove. Adjoining property owners oppose the split.

MAYOR VANNIER was authorized to sign the proposed fire mutual aid agreement with El Monte and Arcadia. This permits off-duty city employees to help combat fires in the other two cities and to receive pay for their work.

Politics Zooming

C. R. Gildart of 531 Elm St., in a declaration in behalf of Hawkins, scored "irresponsible statements recklessly thrown about," adding that "the city would be foolish to give up the services of Hawkins as treasurer in favor of anyone else on the political horizon."

Landwehr who a week ago repudiated the leadership of Mrs. Estelle M. Drobeck of 612 Auburn, in his campaign, and who circulated his nomination papers, took umbrage to Council's action, and in a "statement to the press" declared he was "questioning the incumbent's loyalty on specific grounds," and promised a detailed statement on April 7.

The Gildart statement said: "DEAR EDITOR: 'In Mr. Landwehr's statement as published in your last issue, he speaks of 'valid evidence' which 'has to do with any wrongdoing on the part of any City of Sierra Madre personnel.' 'In his next paragraph he thanks the former sponsor for bringing to his attention 'some such evidence.' 'Now, I do not know what Sierra Madre city employee Mr. Landwehr is referring to, or whether the implication that he is speaking of his opponent is intended or accidental, but I do know that Mr. Hawkins, when present, knows well how to deal with veiled and vague accusations and with people who utter them.

"Unfortunately he is not here, but being a man well known in this city for his strict integrity, he is not wanting in friends willing to see that the public is not deceived by statements which could create a false impression, whether so intended by the author or not.

"I think Mr. Landwehr should specify just what he means by 'valid evidence of wrongdoing,' and what 'City of Sierra Madre personnel' is guilty.

In his statement Landwehr said:

"I WAS surprised to note in the Sierra Madre News (3/10/60) a report of a partisan political meeting which in effect endorsed the incumbent for the office of city treasurer of the City of Sierra Madre.

"I was surprised, since this office is supposed to be non-partisan. In running against the incumbent, I have not solicited nor would I accept a formal or an informal endorsement from any partisan political group.

"Be that as it may, since the News reported that the meeting stressed (1) the incumbent's long and loyal service to the city and (2) 'he made money with the city's surplus funds,' I should like to be given 'equal time' to reply.

"First, I can't question the 'long' service. How long is long? I, too, am a 'long-time' resident who cannot be accused of disloyalty. However, I am questioning the incumbent's 'loyalty' on specific grounds, having nothing to do with the record of his present and past absence from the United States. These specific grounds will be made public on April 7, 1960.

"PAUL F. LANDWEHR."

Sturtevant Trail

The name was later changed to Sturtevant to honor William Sturtevant who with his family opened Sturtevant's Camp in 1898.

The Sturtevant Trail, with its gentle grades and inspiring views, became the most popular trail in our mountains. In 1919 some 5,000 hikers passed the Half Way House during a single three-day holiday.

SINCE 1924, when the hoof and mouth disease and a great fire kept people out of the mountains and the Sturtevant Trail has been in the decline.

Today if you wander the Sturtevant Trail the work of the men and boys is quite evident, overgrown brush has been cleared, the debris of slides removed and boulders rolled aside.

Old residents traveling the trail may rest under the Knob Cone pines, reportedly planted by Lucky Baldwin, and they remember the Little Gray Inn, Joe Clark and his Half Way House.

ing, blueprinting of principal buildings in the city, supervising the safety angle of assemblages and in going to fires.

MARSHAL EMBREE, at first, will spend some time observing the work of the Pasadena Fire Department.

Ultimately his work, according to City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, is expected to produce a lowering of fire insurance rates in Sierra Madre.

Embree has been a resident of Sierra Madre for many years.

Sierra-Hastings Camp Fire Log

April 2 will find dads from the Sierra-Hastings Camp Fire district, armed with carpenter and garden tools, spending a few hours at Camp Chiquita helping to make needed repairs. Camp Chiquita is the girls' in-town camp located at the top of Fair Oaks Ave.

Keirn Zebb, camp chairman, said work at the camp will start at 8 a.m. He added that he expects at least two fathers from each of the district's groups to take part.

The annual WO-PA-PA or Work Party for Parents at the mountain camp Wase-wagen will be the weekend of May 14 and 15. This will be a family weekend, with fathers making repairs needed to get the camp ready for summer, mothers and older children also assisting where needed.

ELU-CAN-DA Camp Fire Girls held a ceremonial to present honor beads at the home of their leader, Mrs. Earl Nissley, 3295 Rida. The ceremonial theme was the fiftieth anniversary of Camp Fire. Beads were presented in a gold container in the shape of a candle, with three-year pins used as the flame. Programs also carried

Shakespeare Jesters Plan Annual Production April 1-2

A new name, a new play and a new cast are heralding a new decade of presenting original productions by the drama section of the Shakespeare Club Juniors.

Now called The Jesters, the group is presenting "Joe Sent Me," an original play by Sam Soghomonian, on Friday and Saturday, April 1 and 2 at 8:15 p.m. in the Shakespeare Club Auditorium, 230 S. Los Robles.

Wach. Dancers include Mesdames Donald W. George, Thomas Fessenden, William H. Henry, Frank D. Limb and Gale L. Wopschall.

In charge of this year's production is Mrs. Sam Soghomonian, chairman of The Jesters, assisted by Mesdames Edwin E. Easterling, Frank D. Limb and Richard L. Seaman.

The art director, Jackson Lee Stubs Jr., will be assisted by Messrs. Henry Foes, George Gillmore, Robert Pauland, Mesdames John M. Ricker, Steve J. Deme and James C. Bridges.

John E. Robinson and Mrs. Lloyd B. Pearson are co-chairmen of costume design and Mrs. John B. Voskian, stage properties. Mrs. Jack A. Lamp is in charge of make-up.

MRS. ERLINE KIDDER is the one professional note. She, for the second year, is directing the production. Tickets are available from Junior members and will be on sale at the box office.

Auxiliary To Fete Husbands

Come join "La Vita Notturna" is the invitation members of the Structural Engineers Auxiliary of Southern California have extended to their husbands for an evening of dining and dancing at Pasadena Art Museum this Saturday.

The two large galleries at the Museum, with their current exhibition of National Prints, will be the background for the "Italian Night Life" theme. There will be freehand charcoal sketching for the guests, a strolling musician to lend enchantment and a popular orchestra for those dancing.

Arrangements have been made by Mrs. Gerke, assisted by Mrs. Ben L. Schmid. Mrs. Don K. Jephcott is in charge of reservations.

Daydreams of Suburbia: Part II

More About the Secret Loves of Mid-Afternoon Hastings

By John B. DuBois

As you will recall, this observer was disclosing his brown study on the hobgoblin of inner suburbia. Having pierced with Martinisue machination the protective crust of Hastings' motherhood, the secret yearnings of female suburbia were revealed between gulps. Guided conversation, loud-mouth, and psychoanalysis did the rest.

Thus, types of males about who housewives dream have been categorized in a whimsy, Kinsey sort of way. Last week several images were described: "The Heavy," "The Graying Dream Man," "The Literary Lion" and others.

ANOTHER COMMON, but interesting type is "The Great Adventurer." He is powerful stuff to the conformist suburban wife who is shackled to a pallid breadwinner. She has met him in many paperback novels, waging his lonely battle in unexplored regions of earth, sea and sky. He's Sir Hillary. Or Maurice Herzog. Or Lawrence of Arabia. Untamed and alive!

Her imaginary yielding to this man of action sweetly stings with new emotion—until the kids storm home from school!

Consider next the old flame who occasionally comes to town out of the violet twilight. Like an old Valentino film flickering across the TV screen. He is "The Rolling Stone"—the sailor in port for the night, the sweet-talking man, the rainmaker. He stirs around in a world of constant excitement. Graying, four-times married, with always a woman he's just left behind. And always the encounter is brief, tender, melancholy.

"THE BEAUTIFUL Primitive is the singing boatman in Venice. Or the beachboy on Walkiki. Or the whistling truck driver. Some day their paths will cross again. Some day somewhere—like at the Shopping Bag, or Don Benito, or Tiny Taylor's.

Fascinating category of male idol is that releaser of countless captive libidos, that phantom lover of the dim-lit office—"The Father Figure." He is a psychoanalyst. Via television, motion picture, fiction, or Dr. Alvarez, he has propped himself up in her dream world. Like a Freudian Mr. Wonderful.

Rainier, Aly Khan, Rubirosa—wrapped in an aura of money, yachts and amour—epitomize the "International Playboy" type. They possess a front page reputation for enslaving beautiful women. This paves the way for ever-greater conquests, aided, perhaps, with champagne and diamonds!

In the 3 p.m. calm, how many Hastings Ranchites dream of the day they'll fall into the lethal web of some "International Playboy" and be swooped off to far-away continents on a horse of air?

THEN THERE is the "Big Brain" who kindles a flame in her heart that is purer than mere grande passion. And the "Big Lover"—that endearing young charmer custom made for the woman who looks back to recapture the delicious days of youth. Or the "Great Newsman." He's Edward R. Murrow with cigarette. Clete Roberts standing on the desert frontier of Egypt. Or Cronkite leaning into the wind at Squaw Valley. Great stuff, these, to the stay-at-home wash in soap opera.

MORAL To Suburban Husbands: When you come home to a kitchenful of dirty

Demos Meet March 31 To Show Film

"Time and Space," an award winning motion picture at the Venice Film Festival, will be a feature of the program when Hastings Ranch Democratic Club meets at 8 p.m. next Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art Reilly, 1035 Riviera. All are invited to attend.

Michael Stolzberg is president of the Hastings Ranch Club. Dorcas Sharpe is program and finance chairman; Helen Loomis, membership chairman, and Stella Rudnik, chairman of the organization committee.

The club is open to all interested men and women in Hastings Ranch and the surrounding area. The next few months will be important ones to the organization because of the national Democratic presidential convention meeting in Los Angeles this summer.

UP ON ...
Hastings Hill

Our nine-hole golf course in Eaton Canyon Park will soon become a reality. Bids are to be opened April 6 for the $200,000 job, and the work will take about seven months.

So children of the area will say goodbye to their little County park in the canyon. Workers will move all the picnic facilities and fire circles and the little nature museum which have been the favorites of families of the Hastings-Sierra Madre Villa area for years. The county will not give up the park facilities altogether, however, but will move them to a site adjacent to the stables on New York Dr. about two miles west of the present park.

SATURDAY was a big day for junior high age Girl Scouts of lower Hastings Ranch. Wearing the own and store-borrowed clothes, the girls gave a delightful spring fashion show for friends at the East Pasadena Youth Center.

Participating were Anne Baker, Janice Berndt, Cathy Cass, Kathi Donohue, Renee Durbin, Wendy Harris, Donna Hicks, Diana Hunter, Jerilyn Jandegian, Kathy Kivett, Karen Keilholz, Janet Lindstrom, Linda Mayer, Elizabeth McClintock, Susan McMahon, June Nichols, Pudy Paulson, Kim Rosander, Diane Tolar, Linda Wellman and Sue Willis. Judy Morris, also scheduled to model, spent the day with much

Million '60 Cars Produced by Ford

Ford, the industry's sales leader in two out of the last three years, on March 11 produced its one millionth 1960 model vehicle, one month ahead of the production pace established last year when Ford captured sales leadership.

The first 1960 model Ford cars to be produced were Thunderbirds, starting on Sept. 8, 1959. The production start date on 1959 models was Sept. 15, 1958, with the one millionth vehicle being produced on April 8, 1959.

Hastings Nursery School Offers 'Scattered Showers'

"Scattered Showers," a comedy-drama playlet of interest to mothers of young children, will be presented without charge by the Hastings Nursery School to interested mothers in the area at 9:45 a.m. Monday and Thursday in Fellowship Hall of Trinity Presbyterian Church, which adjoins the Hastings school yards.

Three mothers of children in Hastings, Meredith Morton, Marge Jugan and Mary Alice Waugh, will be seen in the production.

"Scattered Showers" first was presented before parents of the school at a dinner meeting, and met with such interest the mothers are giving the two additional performances so that all may see the play.

In addition, the trio presented the play last night at Oncoenta Nursery school for representatives to the San Gabriel Valley Council of Cooperative Nursery Schools.

ALTHOUGH it is still early spring, Hastings Ranch Nursery School is accepting applications now for summer and fall enrollment. More than a score already are signed up for September.

The summer class will be a special six-weeks session during July and the first part of August. Classes will be held three days a week, and there will be no mother participation as during the regular term.

The school normally operates as a cooperative, with mothers acting as teacher

Ranch Housewives to Dance In Field Parents' Musical

Recognize these names—Beverly Farley, Dolores Zinsmeyer, Corinne Page, Peg Lansill, Bertina Toppitts and Marily Hyde?

Sure you do. They are Hastings Ranch.

Bet you won't know them April 1 and 2, though.

Because on April 1 and 2 they become a real spicy line of dancing girls for "Say It With Seasons," the Eugene Field parents' show now in final rehearsals.

The show, being produced by Betty Gruwell, with help in various departments by dozens of parents of Field, will actually "say it with seasons" by presenting novelty song and dance numbers carrying through holidays of the year.

Evelyn Cannon, chorus and music director, will lead members of the women's chorus in a variety of numbers. The chorus, many of I'm trying to be real strong of character today. I have learned through watching "Chucko, I'm Chucko," and then on down the line, that you can soon become addicted to the TV daytime shows.

I sneak a peek to see what Young Dr. Malone is doing with full resolve that I will not watch it—I just want to see what they're doing today. There goes another half hour down the drain with naught to show for it.

After that one comes "From These Roots" and I'm telling you, you have some serious problems on that show. Here is a woman, well over 40, with a rheumatoid heart and who is going to have a baby, just as her husband is asking for a divorce, too.

Now anyone can see the problems that alone would present themselves, without all those of her sister and all. But I'm not going to watch today. No sireeeeeee! Click!

MRS. A. C. ONG and Mrs. Eldon Osburn co-hosted (good word) at a bridge luncheon recently at the Osburn home on Edge Cliff Lane. Guests able to attend were Mesdames George Prescott, Paul Siechert, John Griffith, Richard Fox, Jack Paschall Jr., William Baugh, Gilbert Olson, A. D. Welsh, Alfred Allen and Robert Mar-dian.

JUST HEARD of a weekly bridge battle that has been going on all winter between the L. C. Farmers and the Eugene Kochs of Wynn Rd. Neither side will admit defeat so this may well turn out to be a war equalled only by the North and South.

MR. AND MRS. William Kelley are back in their Mesaloe Lane home after more than a month's cruise on the Caribbean. They left here Feb. 9, with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Worthington of South Orange Grove in Pasadena.

Upon their arrival in New Orleans they were met by Mrs. Kelley's father and stepmother who had come down from Indiana to show them around and to see them off.

They sailed Feb. 14, on their anniversary, and after a rousing party, on the Ariadne of the Hamburg Amerika Line. There were five wonderful shipboard days of becoming acquainted with their fellow travelers before they reached the first port of call.

THE LADY LIONS enjoyed a Saturday night at Henry's Rest in Arcadia, including a ceremony supervised by Mrs. Allene Welsh, founder of the unit in Sierra Madre, and a prime roast beef dinner. Seven Rules for Assisting Child to Grow Up Right

Roy O. Gilbert, M.D.,
Los Angeles County Health Officer

Today, as never before, there is an increasing interest in the subject of mental health. Community leaders are active in encouraging programs which range all the way from education to establishment of clinics for out-patients and more mental institutions for those seriously ill.

In California, the Legislature has recently recognized the mental health problem in passing the Short-Doyle Act which gives state subsidies to a wide variety of local programs.

It has been said for some time that more than one-half of the hospital beds in the United States are occupied by mental patients. As a rule, roots of mental illnesses can be traced to the formative years of life, hence parents are among the most interested groups in the whole subject of mental health.

MR. AND MRS. William Baugh are back in their Edge Cliff Lane home after returning from a brief vacation in San Francisco.

LEARNED OF more new neighbors on Edge Cliff Lane. They are Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fostinis at 1415. They have one daughter who has just graduated from UCLA and will be moving back home at the first of the month. Mr. Fostinis is a practicing attorney. His office is in the Citizens National Bank Building at Fifth and Spring.

Hobbywise, both the Fostinis have been interested in civic work in San Gabriel, where they lived for 21 years. Mrs. F. has been doing a lot of mothers work in connection with her daughter's sorority, and now that she is finished with school she hopes to resume her own hobbies and interests.

She has been an active member in the past of the Euterpe Opera Reading Club in Los Angeles, and probably will resume that hobby again.

Infant Hacker Dies Suddenly

Infant Charles Gavin Hacker, 13 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hacker, passed away suddenly March 17 at the home, 307 N. rements and violent. Only antidotes for extremity and violence are moderation, gentleness, and firmness.

5—Be persistent. It is an acknowledged fact that repetition is the most effective tool used in the learning process.

6—Be sure your child remains in good physical health. Mental health is most readily achieved if physical health is good.

7—Set a good example. Continual family quarrels frighten and disturb a child. Every child needs understanding, self-confidence, recognition, and a certain amount of freedom to do what he wants to do.

It is a mistake to frighten a child, or threaten him with dire consequences. He should not be subjected to unfavorable comparisons with other children. His problems are entitled to careful consideration and investigation, rather than punishment based on snap decision.

A GROWING LINE OF MODERN COMMUNICATIONS

An important job of every progressive company is the selection and training of tomorrow's managers and administrators. Through its human relations program, California Water & Telephone Company key employees learn to understand their own attitudes and opinions and become more efficient supervisors as a result. Also included are studies of safety records, teamwork, productivity and the roll of a well organized social program. A well balanced human relations program means greater efficiency and improved services for our many customers. It is one more modern method of serving you.

Red Cross Drive Workers Given Thanks From Leaders Of March Fund Campaign

Although the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter has not yet reached its $7,427 quota in the present March fund drive, its leaders, including Col. Charles E. Morrison, fund chairman, have high hopes after the city has been canvassed 100 per cent and after credit has been received for "AID" donations made at places of business and industry.

Since the Wistaria Vine will be opened to the public within a few days, under sponsorship of the Youth for Christ Organization, it is proper to say that the first of these exhibits was made in 1917 under sponsorship of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter.

The enthusiastic chapter chairman in charge was the late Henry T. Fennell, uncle of the present Police Chief Gordon G. McMillan. At the Wistaria Vine location a punch bowl was filled with donations of money and jewelry which was used to purchase Red Cross supplies for use during World War I.

AT THIS TIME, members of the board of directors of the Sierra Madre Chapter, as well as district captains and Col. Morrison, wish to thank the following workers for their cheerful, conscientious efforts in connection with the fund campaign:

Mrs. Elva Beard, Mrs. Andrew Macias, Mrs. Dyke Berry, Mrs. Elizabeth McKinney, Mrs. Roland Werden, Mrs. Marcus Woodward, Mrs. Arthur Fox, Mrs. John James, Mrs. Perry Brown, Mrs. Richard Parker, Mrs. Earl Morris, Mrs. R. ACCOUNTANTS HEAR TALK ON TRANSISTORS

San Gabriel Valley accountants at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Pasadena YMCA, Marengo and Holly Aves., heard an address on the transistor and solar battery by James J. Wilkinson of the Pacific Telephone Company.

Vets Renew Cleanup Of Cemetery

Veterans of Foreign Wars, Harry L. Embree Post 3208, will conduct another Sierra Madre Cemetery Cleanup, starting at 9 o'clock this Sunday morning.

Help will be needed, so plenty of men with proper garden tools, especially those equipped to prune trees and bushes, are urged to turn out. Power mowers also can be used.

Grover Hudson, post commander, issues an appeal to veterans and others to assist in this worthwhile enterprise. It is hoped to have the cemetery in good shape in time for the annual Memorial Day exercises.

Incidentally, Commander Hudson wishes to thank the friends of the post who have assisted in this work, both through their labor and also cash donations to the cemetery fund.

NINETEEN BOY SCOUTS,

headed by Scoutmaster Walter Goodwin, and some Patrol Dads will work Sunday from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on the cemetery project. Troop No. 376 comprising Patrols Cobra, Eagle, Flaming Arrow and Rattlesnake, sponsored by the Church of the Ascension School, will undertake this community project to earn additional merits.

Hamburgers and beverages will be served from 1 p.m. by the Ladies Auxiliary.

The Veterans Cemetery Committee business meeting will be held at the post rooms, 40 E. Montecito, Wednesday, April 20, at 8:30 p.m.

Mrs. Pedersen Claimed by Death
